16	INTRODUCTION
17	1. "This year will go down in history. For the first time a civilized nation has full gun
18	registration! Our streets will be safer, our police more efficient, and the world will follow our
19	lead into the future." Adolph Hitler , 1935. These plans went into affect again in 2000 when the
20	new California firearm registration law took affect.
21	2. "I ask, sir, what is the militia? It is the whole people to disarm the people is the bes
22	and most effectual way to enslave them." George Mason , during Virginia's ratification convention (1788).
23	3. "No free man shall ever be debarred the use of arms." Thomas Jefferson.
24	4. This case challenges the Constitutionality of California's so called "Assault Weapons"
25	law, and other nuisance firearms legislation.
26	5. "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend
27	it." Daniel Webster, speech, June 3, 1834.
28	THE UNDERLYING FACTS

6. Since about half of U.S. households have a gun, broadly directed restrictions on the acquisition, possession, and use of guns impinge on the lives and liberties of millions of Americans and Californians, not just a small, politically powerless subset of them.

- 7. In response to this simple fact, the advocates of more restrictive controls have directed their focus away from measures which result in either an all out ban or regulation of all types of guns; as such, current gun laws are targeted toward those which regulate special subtypes of firearms, i.e. types of guns which are owned by smaller numbers of voters and which are consequently more vulnerable to regulation.
- 8. For instance, "if I could have gotten 51 votes in the Senate of the United States for an out-right ban, picking up every one of them... 'Mr. and Mrs. America, turn 'em all in,' I would have done it. I could not do that. The votes weren't here." Senator Dianne Feinstein: CBS-TV's "60 Minutes", February 5, 1995. "Semi-automatic assault weapons are turning America's streets into war zones. True, they are not responsible for a large number of homicides, but what they do is offer the possibility..." [emphasis added] Senator Dianne Feinstein: Congressional Record, November 9, 1993. In fact, the actual number is statistically insignificant that DOJ and the FBI do not even maintain statistics on alleged assault weapons."
- 9. California's laws have thus increasingly stressed the need to control various special weapon categories such as "assault rifles" and "Saturday Night Special" ("Junk Guns") handguns, and "cop-killer" bullets, or sometimes all handguns. For each weapon or ammunition type, it is argued that the object is especially dangerous or particularly useful for criminal purposes, while having little or no counterbalancing utility for lawful purposes. A common slogan is "This type of gun is good for only one purpose killing people."
- 10. The specific weapon type so described shifts from one year to the next, in response to shifts in the political winds rather than actual criminologically significant shifts in criminal use of guns. For example, the so-called "cop killer bullets" which were restricted in 1986, have never killed a cop.
- 11. "Assault rifles" and "assault weapons" became important objects of gun control efforts in the 1980s.
- 12. Contrary to widespread claims, these semi-automatic "military-style" weapons are rarely used by criminals in general or by drug dealers or juvenile gang members in particular, are almost never used to kill police officers, are generally less lethal than ordinary hunting rifles, and are not easily converted to fully automatic fire. They do offer a rate of fire somewhat higher than other gun types and can be used with magazines holding large numbers of cartridges, but there is absolutely no evidence demonstrating that so called "assault weapons" are relevant to the outcome of any significant number of gun crimes. Guns and Violence: A Summary of the Field, Gary Kleck, Ph.D., School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.

- 13. In fact, fewer than 2% of gun homicides involve the military-style semiautomatic weapons which are commonly labeled "assault weapons." Guns and Violence: A Summary of the Field, Gary Kleck, Ph.D., School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
- 14. Saturday Night Specials (SNSs) or "Junk Guns" are small, cheap handguns. The U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) definition of SNSs is a barrel length under three inches, .32 caliber or less, and price under $50 in mid-1970's dollars. California changed this definition dramatically by defining a SNS as any handgun lacking a "manually operated safety." Thus, California has redefined BATF's criteria of a SNS.
- 15. Considering the obvious target of California's SNS gun law (i.e. Glock's and Sig's), SNSs are not the real target of the policies, but rather that all handguns are. Given the obscure and technical definitions that are actually used in legislation and administrative regulations in California, it was easy to manipulate such a definition in a politically low-profile way such that most handguns fell within the SNS category.
- Each year about 1,500-2,800 criminals are lawfully killed by gun-wielding American civilians in justifiable or excusable homicides, far more than are killed by police officers. There are 600,000-1 million defensive uses of guns each year, significantly more than the number of crimes committed with guns.
- About a third of U.S. households keep a gun at least partially for defensive reasons; at any one time nearly a third of gun owners have a firearm in their home (usually a handgun) which is loaded; about a quarter of retail businesses have a gun on the premises; and approximately 5% of U.S. adults (including celebrities, politicians, judges, and off-duty and retired law enforcement personnel) regularly carry a gun for self-defense.

- According to the State of California, Center for Health Statistics and Department of Justice, in 1997, out of 3,849 firearm/explosives deaths [DHS fails to identify the actual number of deaths caused by the use of firearms versus explosives] in California, 1,727 were suicides and 175 were accidental; thus, approximately half were inflicted by another person; however, out of this number, 93% of the deaths were caused by handguns, not so called "assault weapons." DOJ's own records reflect that between 1990 to 1998, 10% were coded justifiable home shootings, and 5% were justifiable police shootings. Thus, a minimum of 15% of the homicides were justifiable, leaving only approximately 1,500 homicides. In fact, this Homicide rate is in fact declining. See Plaintiff's Exhibit "A" attached.
- 19. This is a mere pittance when compared to the number of people killed in 1997 by auto accidents [3,809 (Plaintiff's Exhibit "B" attached.)], or by ingesting too much alcohol all at once [3,345 (Plaintiff's Exhibit "C" attached.)].
- Firearm Mortality (All figures are for U.S.) Annual Firearm Deaths from Homicide have ranged from approximately 12,000 in 1976 to a peak of approximately 17,000 in 1993. In 1998, they have reached an all time low of 10,900. Handguns are used in a majority of the homicides. In 1998, 2,160 were from all other guns, other than handguns.

- 22. In 1997, there were 3,319 alcohol induced deaths in California out of 19,576 Alcohol-induced deaths in the United States, not including motor vehicle fatalities. In 1997, there were 25,175 deaths in the United States from Chronic Liver Disease and Cirrhosis. [All statistical information compiled from CDC and DHS.]

As a result of the passage of Senate Bill (SB) 23 (Chapter 129, Statutes of 1999), effective January 1, 2000 any person who, within the state of California, possesses any of the firearms identified in 12276 and other firearms described 12276.1 all euphemistically described as "assault weapon," except as provided in Penal Code section 12276 et seq., (original Roberti-Roos Assault Weapons Control Act), is guilty of a criminal offense. The original Roberti-Roos Assault Weapons Control Act, which was partially unconstitutional, has been supplemented by SB 23 to define assault weapons by their physical characteristics and functionality, rather than just by make and model.

Act are not allowed registration under this legislation. The passage of SB 23 also prohibits, except as provided, the manufacture, import, sale, giving or lending of large capacity magazines (defined as any ammunition feeding device with the capacity to accept more than 10 rounds, but not to include .22 caliber tube ammunition feeding devices) effective January 1, 2000.

- Enforcement relative to the illegal possession of assault weapons will go into effect January 1, 2001, following the one-year registration period. Persons who lawfully possessed assault weapons prior to January 1, 2000 are required to either 1) register them with the Department of Justice between January 1, 2000 and December 31, 2000, 2) render them permanently inoperable, 3) remove them from California, 4) relinquish them to a police or sheriff's department, or 5) sell them to a California licensed firearms dealer who possesses a valid assault weapon dealer permit.
- 57. However, these prohibitions do not apply to off-duty or retired California peace officers.
- 58. In addition, citizens who associate with certain Government officials, and off-duty or retired California peace officers are entitled to carry concealed weapons.
- 59. Article I, Section 8 of the California Constitution provides that "[a] citizen or class of citizens may not be granted privileges or immunities not granted on the same terms to all citizens."
- Though the Roberti-Roos Assault Weapon Control Act of 1989 was augmented with the current legislation, these acts cumulatively infringe upon Plaintiffs' rights guaranteed by the Second Amendment, and rights retained by the People.

61. In addition, Penal Code Section 12125 et seq. prohibits the manufacture, sale, importation, use, possession, use and/or lending of any handgun failing to satisfy the enumerated requirements, including among other things, handguns lacking a "manually operated safety." This means that Sig Saur's, Glock's and other very expensive and well engineered handguns are now on the prohibited list. 62. In addition, magazines for both long arms and pistols exceeding ten rounds are now prohibited, in certain circumstances. However, the sale or purchase of these magazines is now currently prohibited by law as well. 63. declared to be "the supreme law of the land." Art. III, Sect. Cal. Const.

- 74. The Second Amendment, by virtue of its incorporation into the State constitution and by virtue of the Fourteenth Amendment, prohibits government officials from enforcing laws which would interfere with an "individual's" right to "keep and bear arms."
- 75. Defendants, acting under color of law, are engaging in conduct that infringes on Plaintiffs' rights guaranteed and protected by the Second Amendment.
- 76. Defendants' acts include, but are not limited to,
 - (1) enforcing numerous statutes which infringe upon Plaintiffs' rights which are guaranteed by the Second Amendment,
 - (2) requiring Plaintiffs to register firearms, and making noncompliance with registration a criminal act,
 - (3) regulating and controlling firearms and their accessories in a way which obviously infringes upon Plaintiffs' rights of acquisition, ownership, possession, and to keep and bear arms,
 - (4) depriving Plaintiffs of their individual rights to protect themselves, property and their country.
- 77. In addition, the California Constitution, Article I, Section 1 specifically provides that "All people are by nature free and independent and have inalienable rights. Among these are enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety, happiness, and privacy."
- 78. But by virtue of the current firearms laws, Plaintiffs' ability to exercise those rights have been infringed.
- 79. In essence, the result of Defendants enforcement of California statutes, Plaintiffs are precluded from being able to exercise those inalienable rights, except in very limited circumstances.
- As a direct and proximate result, if Defendants are not enjoined from enforcing the subject laws, Plaintiffs will be irreparably harmed according to proof, including, but not limited to the loss of use and enjoyment of constitutional rights.
- 81. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof,

24	00 PI :	(DUE PROCESS - Liberty Interest)
25		ntiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 90 as though the same were set
26	forth herein at length.
27		arm possession is a valuable liberty interest imbedded in both the Second
28		and Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. "[T]here is a long tradition of wi	idespread lawful gun ownership by private individuals in this country." Staples v.

United States, 511 U.S. 600, 610 (1994). Thus, Plaintiffs have a protected liberty interest in firearm possession under the Fifth Amendment.

- 92. "It is wrong to convict a person of a crime if he had no reason to believe that the act for which he was convicted was a crime, or even that it was wrongful. This is one of the bedrock principles of American law. It lies at the heart of any civilized system of law." United States v. Wilson, 159 F.3d 280, 293 (7th Cir.1998) (Posner, C.J., dissenting). It offends both substantive and procedural due process for Plaintiffs to be subjected to criminal prosecution for laws criminalizing past behavior. Because current gun laws retroactively apply and are obscure criminal provisions, it is unfair to hold Plaintiffs accountable for their otherwise previous lawful actions.
- 93. The conduct these statutes criminalize is malum prohibitum, not malum in se. In other words, there was nothing inherently evil about Plaintiffs possessing certain firearms and accessories. Plaintiffs conduct is and will become unlawful merely because the statutes mandated that it be. See Wilson, 159 F.3d at 294 (Posner, C.J., dissenting).
- The subject gun laws are also one of those "highly technical statutes that present ... the danger of ensnaring individuals engaged in apparently innocent conduct," of which the Supreme Court spoke in Bryan v. United States, 524 U.S. 184, 118 S.Ct. 1939, 1946-47, 141 L.Ed.2d 197 (1998).
- 95. In this case, numerous individuals in California will become criminals for lawful activities committed in the past since the state does not notify each individual firearm owner of the supposed duty to register guns and parts. See Lambert v. California, 355 U.S. 225 (1957).
- 96. Because current gun laws are obscure, highly technical statutes with no mens rea requirement, it violates Plaintiffs' Fifth Amendment due process rights to be subject to prosecution without proof of knowledge that they were violating the statutes.
- 97. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs are being deprived their constitutional rights under color of law.
- 98. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof, including, but not limited to the loss of use and enjoyment of constitutional rights and property.

5	101.	Plaintiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 100 as though the same were

7	102.	The current so called "Assault Weapons" ban does not apply to off-duty and retired
8	Californ	ia Peace Officers. In other words, this class of citizens are granted privileges and
9	immunit	ies which are not granted to others.
	103.	This exemption was implemented to facilitate and enlist law enforcement officers to
11	back the current gun legislation. It is a well known fact that off-duty and retired law enforcement
12	officers, as a group, are the one of the biggest purchasers of Assault Weapons, Rifles, and Semi-
13	Automatic pistols, and that these purchases are unrelated to any law enforcement function they may undertake or have undertaken.
15	104.	This exemption serves no legitimate law enforcement interest. For instance, why does
16	on off-duty or retired officer need an AK-47 as no law enforcement agency in California uses
17	them?
18	105.	Plaintiffs are entitled to equal rights, protections and privileges under the law.
19	However, a class of citizens are given rights simply because they happen to be associated with

21 22	106.	Article I, Section 8 of the California Constitution provides that "[a] citizen or class of
23	citizens may not be granted privileges or immunities not granted on the same terms to all

- 108. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 106 as though the same were set forth herein at length.
- 109. For any citizen of "good moral character" and who has necessary firearms training, is still not entitled to obtain a concealed weapons permit, nor are they permitted to carry a loaded firearm within an incorporated area.
- 110. Instead, they must first apply to the local sheriff or police chief for a permit.
- 111. These permits are issued only to individuals with are politically affiliated with the issuing authority, made campaign contributions, or are socially related. In other words, they are used as a powerful tool to be exploited as rewards for those in power.
- Sheriffs' and State Law Enforcement officials are currently issuing concealed weapons permits on a discriminatory basis. That is they are issued to campaign contributors and political supporters of the issuing authority.
- 113. In addition, police officers and retired police officers, including federal officers, obtain their concealed weapons authorization under a separate statute, which does not demand a showing of good cause. See Cal. Penal Code S 12031(b).
- 114. In other words, 12031(b) grants to "active or honorably retired" law enforcement officers preferential access to concealed weapons permits due to their current or former affiliation to the law enforcement community.
- 115. Though the stated reason is to protect California Peace Officers from possible harm due to their high involvement in crime, other professions carry the same or higher risk, military personnel subject to terrorist attacks and protests, doctors employed at abortion clinics, attorney's dealing with disgruntled litigants and inmates, and so forth.
- 116. There is no rationale basis for this statute as a young black male in California under the age of 25 has a exceedingly far greater chance of being murdered than all peace officers combined throughout the entire United States.
- 117. Non-law enforcement citizens of good moral character and who adequate training and experience in the use of firearms (i.e. hunters, military, etc.) are not granted the same privilege. Therefore, the law has no rationale purpose other than not to disrupt law endorsements support of the current firearms laws. 1 118. If defendants enforced the same gun laws against law enforcement officers, the current 2 gun laws would never have been passed as they would have been opposed by law enforcement. 3 119. Currently, any California resident can purchase a so-called "assault weapon" or carry a concealed weapon simply by becoming a member of a law enforcement agency. 5 120. Plaintiffs are entitled to equal rights, protections and privileges under the law. 6 However, peace officers are given rights simply because they happen to be associated with law enforcement. Enforcement of such laws violates Plaintiffs' equal protection and association 8 rights. 121. Article I, Section 8 of the California Constitution provides that "[a] citizen or class of 10 citizens may not be granted privileges or immunities not granted on the same terms to all 11 citizens." 12 122. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof, 13 including, but not limited to the loss of use and enjoyment of constitutional rights. 14 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION 42 U.S.C. § 1983 15 (All Plaintiffs) (Privacy) 16 123. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 121 as though the same were 17 set forth herein at length. 18 Under both the State and United States Constitution, Plaintiffs have the right to privacy 124. 19 as to the type of property they own, i.e. firearms. 20 Government Code Section § 6250 et seg. provides that members of the public may 125. 21 access information contained withing the Department of Justice, inclusive of gun registration 22 information. Government Code Section 6254(f) only excludes certain records regarding ongoing 23 criminal investigations and witness information. Otherwise, any member of the public may 24 access the name, address and the type of property owned by Plaintiffs if they were to register 25 their firearms as required by the statute. 26 126. In addition, the Gun registration laws allow government to spy on its citizens who are 27 involved in legal activities, i.e. owning personal property, without any legitimate law enforcement interest at stake. 1 127. Furthermore, Plaintiffs' have a right to privacy in the protection of their homes and 2 property. 3 128. The current gun laws will deprive Plaintiffs' of their lawful right to defend their persons in the sanctity of their own homes against intrusion by unlawful conduct undertaken by any 5 person, including government officials. [History has shown over and over what can happen to a 6 person in their own home when they are unarmed - see Plaintiffs' Exhibit "E" as just one example as to how a single intruder with a knife killed a father and three children, and severely 8 injuring the wife as she ran from her own home because she could not defend herself against the stronger intruder.] 10 129 Why should government or the public be allowed to know what firearms Plaintiffs own, 11 it to dictate what type of firearm Plaintiffs are allowed to use in defense of their person and 12 home? 13 130. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof, 14 including, but not limited to the loss of use and enjoyment of constitutional rights. SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION 15 42 U.S.C. § 1983 16 (Freedom of Association) 17 131. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 130 as though the same were 18 set forth herein at length. 19 132. The current gun laws permits the head of a law enforcement agency to dictate as to 20 which Peace Officer may keep an "Assault Weapon" during their employment, or after they retire 21 or quit. 22 133. If citizens (Plaintiffs) of California refuse to become part of an association known as 23 "peace officer" or "agent of the Government," or to support a particular "politician," "Sheriff" or 24 "Chief," then they are not granted the rights, privileges, immunities, and equal protections 25 afforded to those who wish to associate with Government or elected officials. 26 134. Or, if citizens (Plaintiffs) of California refuse to become politically active in support of 27 particular law enforcement officials, they are denied the firearm privileges bestowed upon those 28 who care to associate with such political/governmental figures.

	135.	In other words, since Plaintiffs refuse to associate with law enforcement or those
1	politically associated with law enforcement, they are denied equal protection of the laws, and
2	privileges and immunities.
3	136.	As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof,

7		(9 th and 14 th Amendments)
8	137.	Plaintiffs incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 137 as though the same were
9	set forth	herein at length.
0	138.	Though, as held by the Ninth Circuit, the right to keep and bear arms is a state right, the
1	Ninth Aı	mendment of the U.S. Constitution specifically provides that the rights of the people,
12	though n	not expressly enumerated, are nevertheless entitled to protection.
3	139.	The Ninth Amendment is directly applicable to Plaintiffs since "The State of California
4	is an inse	eparable part of the United States of America, and the United States Constitution is the
15	supreme	law of the land." Article III, Section 1 of the California Constitution.
16	140.	In this case, this country has a long and established history of "the people" keeping and
17	bearing 1	military arms; keeping and bearing arms is a natural right which pre-existed the rights
8	enumera	ted in the constitution.
9	141.	The right to keep and bear arms is a natural right that every law abiding citizen posses,
20	this right	t can never be restricted or taken away by Government.
21	142.	Defendants have infringed upon Plaintiffs' natural right to possess, bear and keep
22	firearms	. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiffs have been damaged according to proof,
23	including	g, but not limited to the loss of use and enjoyment of constitutional rights.
24	143.	"God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend
25	it." Dan	iel Webster, speech, June 3, 1834.
26	WHERE	EFORE, Plaintiffs demand judgment against the Defendants, jointly and severally,

90	1	For general damages in a sum to be determined

	2.	For special damages in a sum to be determined.
1	3.	For attorney fees and costs.
